Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

This is a MAP. Good coverage of roads, with a nice balance of big stuff and little stuff. Detail maps of interesting roads and places to go. City maps are functional. Back side has lovely descriptions of attractions and interesting places. I recommend to those interesting in the journey, not just the destination.

This map is waterproof (a good thing if you are messy or drive with you windows down during rain storms or if you are a girl scout type who wishes to always be prepared). Legends are clear; points of interest are noted; all in all it is a very good map.

A beautiful state and this helped us find our way around. When we didn't have service on our phone's GPS, this saved us!

Good durable map with decent detail. I like the special events and locations that it features as well. I hope Nat Geo makes one for every state.

It was OK. Had overall needs, not quite enough detail of cities within the state.

Excellent map.

It was overpriced for what it is. I wanted a map for a friend who was going to Virginia. It has very little information on it. If I had time to order a new one I would have returned it a AAA map would have been better.
