Dave and Neta Jackson are full-time writers and editors whose talented work on the Trailblazer Books has earned them numerous awards, as well as worldwide acclaim. They are the parents of two adult children and make their home in Illinois.

This is my wife's review since she homeschools our son: We bought this book to supplement our English language arts homeschool curriculum. The book has a great layout. It covers 15 heroes with 4 short stories about each hero. There are 6 women and 11 men. (There are 2 husband and wife teams.) The heroes served in many different countries so it is an easy tie to geography. There are dates associated with each hero (birth, start of service) which ties nicely to understand basic history. There are 2 heroes of color giving life a wider view. The heroes come from many different walks of life. Each hero story has identified character traits making teaching easier. There are Bible verses at the end of every short story which is great for weekly scripture memory (or pick 1 for monthly scripture memory). There are also questions at the end of each short story. The questions are deeper than just comprehension of the story. Note: There are few pictures in this book. There are pictures at the introduction story of each hero. Bottom line: The book is great!!!

This has been SO good for my 7 year old. We read a story and discuss the questions at the end, which usually sparks more conversation. In addition to being able to talk about what character trait(s) each person showed, I can remind him of these hero tales during "real life" conversations. He loves history, so the historical and cultural elements in the stories are right up his alley!

Our family loves this book! We read it before bed. It also has discussion questions for the whole family to join in after the story. It's a fun and interesting way to learn history and biographies on other believers. Highly recommend!

Great stories. Easily read. One of my children's favorites.

Love this. Great readings for family time. Generates great discussions

Great book. my 11yr asks me to read this book to him every night. Children know better than us that there "monsters" in this life, this book is filled with good stories that encourage children that these "monsters" can be defeated.

Me and my children really enjoyed reading this book together. Very inspiring.

My son loves reading these stories and last week when we were discussing Dr. Livingstone he brought down his book because he remembered reading about him in this book. The stories are short, well written, and the questions concise. Well written and much loved.
