Erica Johnson-Crell played field hockey at Old Dominion University and Rutgers University. Since then she has coached for local high schools, clinics, camps and universities. She is an active coaching member of the USFHA Futures Olympic Development Program. She resides in Wilmington, Delaware with her family.

A very useful book for new goalies and coaches who are not goalies. I was a goalie but find the book useful for helping my inexperienced goalies as well as suggesting drills and workouts for goalies. Too often goalies are neglected and even a coach with no goalie experience can create a template of drills and workouts for their goalies.

gave to my new high schooler who is looking to get into a new sport. She'd make a great goalie, we'll see.

Great descriptions of the goalie's role. Lots of drills for conditioning and goalkeeping, many that include the whole team.
