Basher History: Mythology: Oh My! Gods And Goddesses

Synopsis

The myths and stories of the gods and goddesses of the ancient world have a timeless appeal that captures the attention of generation after generation of children. Basher History: Mythology is an information-packed introduction to Greek/Roman, Norse and ancient Egyptian mythologies. Meet Zeus, father of the Greek gods (and learn that the Romans knew him as Jupiter), Norse Freyja, goddess of love, beauty, war and death, and Egyptian Bastet, goddess of cats, along with many others. This unique and upbeat guide is a legend in the making.

Gr 4-8 "This book briefly describes major figures in Greek, Norse, and Egyptian myths. The mythological figure's name is given, along with a "rhymes with" pronunciation hint, usually followed by information about the figure's antecedents. A paragraph of first-person description follows, rendered in a flip, lighthearted style ("Yo, peons! It's me, Ra, ready to bring light, life, and food to the Nile valley, sailing full tilt across the sky in my daily royal procession."). Each description is accompanied by a digitally rendered cartoon drawing of the character. Unfortunately, this title is strong on quirky voice but weak when it comes to clarity and organization. Readers unfamiliar with the subject matter may find many details confusing, and though there is a glossary at the end, it is not helpful in every case. For instance, the entry on Dionysus notes that he is the only Olympian god with a mortal parent, but the book never clarifies what is meant by "Olympian god," and the very next entry is Asclepius, a god who also has one mortal parent. Nor are the 12 Olympians grouped together; Hephaestus is tossed in near the end of the chapter. While some readers may enjoy the brevity and humor, most libraries should consider this an additional title. For a book with more comprehensive coverage, consider Blake Hoena's Everything Mythology (National Geographic, 2014).â "Misti Tidman, Licking County Library, Newark, OH --This text refers to the Hardcover edition.

Simon Basher is the creator and illustrator of more than a dozen internationally bestselling books for children including the critically acclaimed Basher Science series. Based in London, Basher specializes in "graphic surrealism" and his original artwork is regularly exhibited and sold in the UK, Europe, USA and Asia. Mary Frances Budzik is the author of previous Basher titles Grammar and Punctuation. She has a BA in English Literature from Boston College and an MA in English Literature from Colombia University. She lives in Connecticut. Sue Alcock (consultant) is a professor of archaeology and classics at Brown University, specializing in ancient Greek and Roman culture. Additional Consultants: Professor Richard Buxton (Greek/Roman), Dr John Haywood (Norse) and Dr Aidan Johnson (Egyptian)

Basher is definately my 4YO's preferred choice of book, he is so interested in science but finding books he can understand and enjoy can be tricky. We now have 4 or 5 books covering a number of topics from Basher and we've not found one we haven't enjoyed. The illustrations are bright and fun but not overwhelming. The key information is presented in a simple and fun way which engages my son but also lets him have a springboard for the future in terms of his learning. The way the information is split up makes it easy for us to find what we want to read about and also helps us look up further information when we want too. Basher have really filled what we felt was a hole in the market

What better endorsement can you have when your daughter automatically wants to order another book by the same author Very easy to read, great explanations kept her hooked during the entire book

My 5 year absolutely adores all his Basher books. He first got The Periodic Table, and now whenever he sees a Basher book in the store he runs to it, grabs it, hugs it and asks if he can

'pleeeaaase' have it. They are wonderful. Small snippets of information in colorful books!

A Hit!

My son is a huge fan of these books. They teach a lot about their topics in a funny way for kids to understand. They come with a poster for their wall and have so many fun details.

We have never been unhappy with Basher Books! The best teaching tools for children that learn best with visual associations! Awesome!

Engaging and entertaining to my 8 year old. He has recently developed an interest in this topic and wanted to know more. This book has given him what he wants to know without overwhelming him.

my kids LOVE this book. Lots of great information presented in an easy and fun way. This is like a little reference book for them and they refer to it often.
