Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of the National Geographic Society, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world. All proceeds from the sale of National Geographic maps go to support the Society's non-profit mission to increase global understanding and promote conservation of our planet through exploration, research, and education.

Looks really cool and beautiful! Accurate and looks nice! I'll be returning it but only because it's a little too big. I'll definitely order the smaller version!

I used it to display state shaped photos of the places we have visited, thanks Pinterest for the wonderful idea

I had to dig into the product description (this information is not visible unless you click a link) to find out that the actual size is 43.5" x 30.5". Not 4 feet by 6 feet as others have claimed! Also, the map is not laminated, don't write on it! The tube was slightly crushed due to my decision to order this along with a heavy item, which was shipped in the same box. So the map is slightly crumpled in one area. I've seen a much nicer and larger NatGeo map with a wooden frame around it, and its available on , but it is out of my price range. I've gotten a larger (and laminated) US map from a different publisher that I like better, and its only slightly more expensive.

Decent quality paper map that came well packaged and in good condition. Not quite as much detail with roads as I had hoped, but is adequate for mapping vacation trips.

Great map for keeping track of trips, and just general reference. I tacked it to a piece of styrofoam, so I can stick pins in it.

This map is awesome! It's huge and fairly detailed. It doesn't include small roads or anything but it does have interstates and major highways. Let me clear something up, this map is NOT laminated. The people who said it is clearly don't know what lamination is. It is on thick durable poster type paper and has sort of a semi-gloss to it. If you want to color this, good luck. While it does hold sharpie marks well, they do take some time to dry. A highlighter will take a couple weeks to dry.

I absolutely LOVE this map!! it looks very nice as a decorative piece on the wall, but also very practical for locating towns and routes to get there. I love that national parks are included and mountain ranges are shown. I really could not be more happy with this map and I truly believe that there should be one in every American household.

Dad wanted a map big enough for him to read and this works. He still needs a magnifier glass for names of places but at least he can see it then. It takes up half of his wall in his man cave. He is very satisfied with it. Everyone who sees it wants one. It gives names for all rivers, lakes, roads, and small towns. Much more in depth than other maps I found while searching for one.
