Ed Soph's career spans almost 40 years as a performer, recording artist, and teacher. From the big bands of Woody Herman and Stan Kenton to small groups with Clark Terry, Marvin Stamm, Joe Henderson, and pianist Bill Evans, Ed has distinguished himself as a drummer who is both technically and musically masterful.

Ed Soph has written a great book for jazz drummers. Not only is Ed a super nice guy, he's also incredibly knowledgeable. If you 'Swing' get this book. Making the Line: A how-to guide on successfully auditioning for drumlines.

Essential learning for jazz beginners

Clear explanations and excellent exercises. Great contribution to develop musicality on the drums.

He is one of the professors at UNT - one of the most prestigious music programs in the country! You cannot go wrong!

This DVD contains very important points regarding time, dynamics, and body & stick positioning that I don't think would be covered elsewhere commonly.
