Whoever Finds It First, Wins!: How To GET Lined Up And STAY Lined Up On An Invisible Playing Field

Synopsis

Whoever Finds It First, Wins is Gold Coach Susie Minshew's popular book on getting lined up and staying that way. You'll learn to read lanes faster, get lined up in three shots, and how to build a shot with your team at tournaments, even the USBC Open Championships! You'll learn the best way to play everything from a house shot to Wolf and Badger on synthetics or wood. You'll learn to read racks, appreciate standing pins, and grow your breakpoint area. It contains an easy-to-understand primer on understanding oil charts and graphs. Whoever Finds It First, Wins does what the name implies. Understanding your playing field will help you conquer it!

Customer Reviews

This book is about the best instructional book I ever read. The author went to great lengths to help us bowlers to understand how to improve our odds in being alert to what the pro bowler already know and to look for. This has found a place in my book library.

Found the book to be very interesting . It touches on a few things that even the experienced bowler might not be aware of. The three shot system was not something I ever heard of.

The author makes you realize why your ball behaves differently than you think it should. She also shows you to adjust accordingly. The book was well written.

This book has many tips on reading lanes but can be confusing for bowlers who bowl on modern plastic lanes.

While I know you can get a lot of this content from other sources, the convenience of having the complete resource in one spot is too good to pass up

There are a lot of things to consider when attempting to bowl and to bowl well. This book will definitely put you on the right track to accomplish this.

If you are a serious bowler there is info for you to learn. I've bowled for a lot of years and picked valuable nuggets. Highly recommended.

Great book for those looking to get to another level.
