Night-Night, Forest Friends

Synopsis

As the sun sets, animals all over the forest get ready for bed. Papa rabbit tucks his babies in among the leaves, fuzzy bears settle in their den, and little foxes snuggle together under the moonlight. Up above, an owl hoots a lullaby. The gentle rhyming text and soft illustrations in this charming book will help little ones settle down for a cozy night.

Annie Bach has been drawing since she was a little girl and still loves to create the same playful, whimsical creatures she imagined as a child. Annie draws inspiration from animals and nature, and brings her characters to life through digital media, paint, and ink. She lives with her family in Seattle, Washington. This is her first book.

This is such a cute book! I am doing a "forest friends" themed nursery and when I was looking for items that went with my theme this book came up as a suggestion here on . It looked cute so I went ahead and ordered it. I love it!! I'm 8 months pregnant now and I read this book to my baby already. I know, I probably am weird, but I enjoy it and I hope my baby likes hearing my voice. I can't wait until my baby is born so I can read him this book and he can see all the adorable pictures in it! I have older kids as well and if this baby is anything like they were I think he will enjoy it the most between ages 6 months (when he can really look at the pictures) until probably age 4 or 5.

Such a sweet little book - the illustrations are large and bold, and my 6 month old loves it. The pages are a little flimsy for a board book, though, and easily bent by strong little hands. I like that the outside is padded. Five stars for the story and illustrations, four for the sturdiness of the board book.

I purchased this book for my son's birthday and used it as part of the birthday theme of Woodland Friends. It worked well as a piece to the table and as a gift to him. The story is so soothing and the pictures are soft and relaxing as well. The cover is better than most board books. I wish they made them all like that!

I liked this book much better than "Time for Bed." Sure the artwork is far more detailed in the latter book, but the rhymes in "Night-Night Forest Friends" do not get too repetitive and do not make your brain go numb. I actually enjoy reading this book to my son.

I love the pictures in this book. The sky is so pretty and it's a quick, cute little read. I like that it's a hard book so baby can't rip the pages. It was also cheap. Glad I bought it.

This book is super cute. I bought it to go with the theme from my baby shower. I can't wait until little man is old enough to understand what I am reading to him :)

My 2 year old loves this book. She is always asking me to read it to her. It's a nice size...not too big, not too small. It's a perfect "before bed" book to read.

super cute book!! daughter loves reading it with mama at night and turning the pages!
