The Junior League of Denver, Incorporated, founded in 1918, is an organization of women committed to promoting volunteerism, developing the potential of women, and improving the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Its purpose is exclusively education and charitable. The revenues received from fundraising efforts support the Junior League of Denver's purpose and community programs.

I had checked this book out of the library and ended up wanting to copy so many recipes it made sense to just buy it. I absolutely love the pie crust recipe - it made me switch from the one I've been using for 35 years!

Before I wrapped it as a wedding present, I took a peek, and I could not find a couple of wonderful recipes that the original version had.

It was used and only had a few notations in it about ingredients in a couple of recipes which I didn't mind and found it helpful. It was better than anticipated.

Likely you too have scanned or even invested in those recipe collections to fund a worthy effort, either not expecting to use the recipes or had to search through to find those that one even would want to attempt. Not the case with this collection of the Jr. League of Denver! And over half-a-million in print to date! You'll want one before it goes out of print! This is large, rich collection that is well thought out, organized and bursts forth with uniqueness, creativity and breadth. Some unique features are its individual sections on Colorado Wild, Mexican and HealthMark Modifications. For example, the game section using Colorado abundance of wildlife is by a doctor who is in to this, who gives recommendations on preparing to remove gaminess and to improve flavor and maintain health. How about Wild Pheasant Stroganoff! Indicative of the stuff you'll love finding here and trying. Also a plus to this delight is notes which accompany most all of the recipes that tell about alternatives, serving suggestions, history where the dish came from, etc. Adds zest for us foodphiles! One can easily see why so many other reviewers have raved about this -- it enticed me to try it. I think you will enjoy using this collection too!

This is one of my favorite cookbooks!! To name a few: Ribs, fajitas, cheesecake... not for the calorie conscious, but there are no bad recipes in this book, you will love them all!!

I bought this cookbook years ago and foolishly gave it away to my daughter. I jumped at the chance to purchase this and keep it for myself. The recipes are not difficult and pretty good. The Powderhorn potatoes disappear, the broccoli salad is tasty and a pork roast recipe made a great Christmas dinner.

I simply love recipes that are already adjusted for high altitude cooking. Some ingredients are a little obscure but the dishes are fabulous.

If we know you and you're married, we've probably sent you a copy of this book. It's a great wedding present--because it offers so many easy, yet creative and satisfying recipes. It's the best Junior League cookbook that this "foodie" has seen--even better than the other Junior League of Denver offerings. My personal favorites are the Szechwan Cashew Chicken, the Marinated Chicken Breasts in Pepper Sauce and the Angel Hair with Basil and Crab. I would note that the book is light on seafood recipes (it's from land-locked Colorado--duh!), but more than makes up for it with excellent poultry, pasta and salad offerings.
